Summary

The Yellow Jackets played a hard season this year, but when the smoke had cleared, they had beaten down their arch rivals, The Sherman High Bearcats, nine miles down the track. Upon accomplishing this feat, the Yellow Jackets earned their third district title since 1922. The Yellow Jackets during this season were compelled to play against much heavier teams. This was a great disadvantage, but the team made up for it in speed, skill, and the will to win. We must not forget Coaches Les Cranfil and Tommy Tipps who, on their first year here, carried the team through a very successful season. The faculty, student body and the citizens of Denison wish to thank our coaches, and every member of the team for making this season what it was.

All District

Denison placed six men on this year's mythical All-District team. These men were, on the first string, Bobby Garner, Roy Jackson, Teddy McCoy, and Melvin Thompson. On the second team were "Cotton" Hill, and Jack Fawcett .

All State

Two of Denison's outstanding players were very highly honored when they were picked for the All State Team. These men were Roy Jackson, second team, and Jack Fawcett, honorable mention.

Summary

The girls of Denison Hi for the first time in five years were brought together, by Miss Anita Doyle, and formed a basketball team.

Since this was their first year, they were unable to be in a regular conference, but it is hoped that next year, they will be in one with the other schools of District 5 AA which are Sherman, Gainesville, Greenville, Paris and Bonham.

The girls were very interested in the idea of a girls' basketball team so they made their own uniforms, and for numbers which were to be on them, they chose the numbers of the football players.

Through the twelve games they played, they won five which is a very good record for a team that started from the bottom to make a team the hard way. Next year all players will return except one who will graduate. Nine of the players will receive gold basketballs for their excellent work in making this basketball team a success. The faculty, students and teammates wish to give Miss Doyle a well earned "Thanks."

Mr. M. M. Marshall
Coach

The Yellow Jacket tennis team had a very successful season for the 1946-47 school year. Brooks Williford, Glenn Land, and Bill Linden, all lettermen for 1945-'46, returned and were strong contenders for the District titles. Bobby Williford, a freshman, joined the team and made a fine record. Matches were played against Sherman, Bonham, Paris, McKinney, Woodrow Wilson, East Texas State Teachers College at Commerce, Austin College, and Oklahoma University. With the exception of the contests against the colleges, Brooks Williford was undefeated. He and Bobby proved too strong in doubles for most of the teams played. Brooks and Glenn Land played Highland Park's teams at Denton in the District Meet and lost in a close match. Bill Linden played singles at the district meet. He defeated Sherman, and then lost to Highland Park in the finals, to take second place.

Brooks Williford is a senior and will receive his third letter in tennis. Land, Linden, and Bobby Williford will be joined by Jimmy Wigzell, Noel Jennings, Kenneth Lewis, Gilbert Brigham, James Bodkin, Bobby Rice, and others for next year.

Back row: M. M. Marshall (Coach), Bobby Rice, Jimmy Wigzell, Bill Nolte, Bill Linden, Brooks Williford, Glenn Land, Dick Wood, and Noel Jennings.

Summary

During the season of 1947 the Denison Yellow Jacket Basketball team had a lot of tough breaks. They were fighting illness at all times. At the end of the first half of the season the Jackets were tied for first place, but the team was then weakened considerably by the graduation of three of the starting line-up. Then to make things even tougher, Greenville's six-foot-eleven-inch Marcus Freiburger became eligible. While at the same time over Gainesville way, "Shooting" Sam Stucky was hitting the basket from every angle. The Jackets put up a very hard fight, but it's hard to win from a team with players like those named.

Even though Greenville and Gainesville had great players, the Jackets had a player who was making some points also. He was George "Corky" Bowling, who was also named on the All-District Five.

The Jackets finished the conference play with five wins and five losses to tie with Sherman and Bonham for third place following Greenville and Gainesville, who were first and second respectively.

Next season the Jackets are expecting to have five men return from the "A" squad and a lot of new boys up from the "B" squad.

Class Will

We, the Senior Class of 1947, being of sound mind and body, do hereby bequeath to those remaining this last will and testament.

Donald Cook leaves his scientific mind to the next poor unfortunate who happens to hold his place in physics. Earlene Hardenburg leaves her flawless shorthand ability to a future aspirant in the secretarial art. Lucille Fraley leaves that tall, smooth, loveliness to Orbie Fudge, who, (although not so tall) fills the other part of the bill very well. Brooks Williford leaves one of his old, worn out tennis balls for Glenn Land to say his prayers to. Madeline Foster leaves her ability for wrapping D. H. S. goalposts to D. A. Bryant who is also very good at it. David Blacknall leaves his flash bulbs and photographic prints to Bill Nolte ("snapit No. 2"). Nancy Hopkins leaves little sister to carry on—anyone want to carry on with her? The line forms at the left, boys. Kenneth Jett, Clifford Noe, Lindsey Rice, Bobby Golden leave the many hours they have spent sleeping in classes to any future seniors who are lucky enough to keep from getting caught. Bill Jacobs leaves (with regret?) the 1st chair baritone in the D. H. S. Band.

Dorothy Finke leaves pleasant memories of the happy hours spent in school in "the big city." Bob Burton turns his manager's jacket over to Thomas Mosley to try to fill alone. Peggy Sheffer and Wanda Milburn leave physics and the ardent attentions of Prof. Brous. Anne Sproule wills that "girlish swing" to Patsy Hunt who doesn't need to be taught a thing. Paul Peterson leaves his analitical mind (cogs and coils, you know) to some promising young Einstein. Tommy Loy leaves his "voice of the Red River Valley" to the next person who likes soap operas, commercials, etc.

Jay Ronald Kidd leaves his unparalleled ability to cut the rug, chew up the carpet, etc. to Freddy Hughes, who gives the "dance" (?) a bit of his own treatment. Jimmy Ballou (he of the golden, tenor voice) leaves his ability to sing (?) two separate notes at the same time to Philip Noe.—Of course, they might yodel a bit. Wanda Hance exchanges her class ring for a piece of ice (a diamond, that is). Teddy McCoy leaves an excellent sport record for Jack Kelly to fill (you better work hard, Jack.) J. P. Holder leaves his love for airplanes, his Sunday trips to Gray Field, etc., to future aviators of D. H. S. Cecil Smith wills his man-about-town-ways to Eddie Pennal. Mary Ellen Hargrove leaves the American Observer tests to Miss Bledsoe. Lluttie Bell Russell, one of those lucky mid-term graduates, left those poor suckers to finish out that last semester.

Peggy Weilmuenster leaves her out-of-town fellas to Beverly Womack. Bill Essary bequeaths his curly locks to David Bond. Alvin Parker likes advertising so well that he won't will anyone even a part of it. Doris Fawcett leaves her megaphone for use by the next 'lil gal who wants to lead a pep squad. James Cliett exchanges D. H. S. for his "boots and saddle" Melba Scalf leaves her basketball shoes to Do othy Douglas. Martha White and Betty Wall leave an excellent record (scholastically, that is) to Thelma Dalton and Betty Baggett. Virginia Hollowell leaves Clyde Pitcock, but, I don't think she will stray far away. Anita LaLonde leavs her bassoon to Rose Mai Lewis. Pat Sittel and Joyce Frederick bequeath some of their "altitude" to Laverne Brumfield and Lavon Yarbrough. Elizabeth Newsom leaves memories of the time she had spent studying in home room to Dorothy Brown.

Jack Fawcett leaves a good record and a slightly worn football suit to Clifton Shearer. Betty Jane Alderson wills her chair in senior study hall to brother Richard (he of "door opening" fame.) Betty Nicholson and Co.ine Dixon bequeath their modest ways to Rose Marie Weaver. Evelyn Davis leaves her clarinet to Joanna Fowler. Charles "Wahoo" Harmon leaves a slightly shrieking "war whoop" to stir the "new seniors" to bigger and better things. Eddie Pilkilton leaves his English term theme to Jack Lilley. Elwyn McManis leaves his trumpet for Chetty Goforth to push a little air through. Billie Manery bequeaths her quiet ways to Patsy Hibbitt and Margie Lance. Joyce Grove leaves her "office job" to Kathleen Gary.

Betty Hardenburg and Clyde Brinkley leave the pact of true love to Peggy Clark and Carl Wilson. Earl Sawyer and Bill Jones will be more than content to leave. Wanda Sutherland leaves her "Interstate" uniform to Hazel Scarbrough. Dorothy Warner leaves her "imaginative genius" for writing short stories to Joanne Schmitzer. Betty Tom Kimble leaves "papa" frantically writing blue slips and locker permits. Jowanna Warren leaves her blond tresses to Jerry Jackson. Bobby Holder leaves behind many days of "blood, sweat, and tears." (Don't we all???). Imanell Elliott and Arminta Pool leave arm in arm as usual. Melva Jean Ball deserts us for trays of "hypo" and a few old rolls of film. Roberta Whitlock leaves her mannish stride to Joanie Abrahamson.

Betty Louise Johnson leaves her place in the office to Margaret Linstead. Gordon Burden leaves his quiet ways to Pat Hughes—he needs them. Carolyn Kalb bequeaths memories of senior study hall to the juniors in general. Joyce Buchanan leaves that "peaches and cream" complection to Pat Tierney. Dorothy Braswell leaves her excellent grades to Lula Mae Gaskill.

Della Cherry wills her chair in Texas History to whoever might want it—and who does? Arlena Cullar and Vera Hogue leave their blue jeans and "hosses" to the next generation of cowgirls. Bill Brunkhorst (or "drunkhorse", as he is called) leaves a cup of salad oil, a dash of salt, and a ¼ pound of popcorn to the P. A. S. F. who may want to use it as refreshments. John Butcher wills his violin to Mr. Brous. Maybe he can find out why it sounds so horrible!!

Jean Willoughby leaves "Corky" but never fear, she'll be close at hand. We wonder if Patt Reasor and Frances Swink will part company when they leave—time alone will tell. Nellwyn Glover leaves her long, blond tresses to Peggy Rutledge (we don't think she needs them—she has some of her own.) Zelta Ruth Jennings leaves the "ole alma mater" for the local gab sheet (newspaper to you.) Donald Gregory and Richard Dotson leave 217. I wonder if the old place will miss them?

Bill Clancy wills his "bone" to Jackie Ingram (I hope Ingram knows what to do with it.) Ernest Odeneal goes out into the world to find bigger and better things to "investigate." Mickey Murphy leaves us for nurses' training. (The lucky guys that get sick.) Bill Hollingsworth leaves trig—whew! What a relief!! Jimmy Strickland and Bob Tracy leave many happy (?) hours spent in literature class. Wanda Parks wills all of her books to the incoming Senior Class—bless 'em. Sam Young (the genius of Texas History Class) leaves that room to others who may want to know why Santa Anna's forces entered Texas in 1835—see, I ain't so dumb.

Class Will

Mary Edna Clark, "Margie" Bridgefarmer, and Aubrey Smith leave the chorus with a slight case of laryngitis. Jack Mosley trades his desk for Kingston's soda bar. Joyce Hagans wills her never-ending genius in the art of drama to Billie Rigdon. Virgil McVay leaves "Cotton" but she retains his "contract." Bettye Morgan leaves her roll book for senior home room (often used to check innocent seniors absent) to the next "tattler" who follows in her footsteps. Wanda Murray and Dorothy Newcomb have so many charms, just take your pick. (Don't push, there's enough for everyone.) Jessie Lou Jackson leaves a rather battered piano to Joyce McHorse who is hereby appointed to finish the job. Josias Villarreal ("Joe" to you) leaves behind a brass button or two and some fond memories.

Herman Crews leaves several new track records to Bob Phillips, who we hope will make some new ones. Betty Dennington leaves some mighty fine grades for the future seniors to try and beat. Bob Rylee leaves his megaphone and cheerleader sweater to Word Burtis who will have quite a collection when he gets out.

Katherine Smith leaves her "3-year term ability" to anyone else who wants to work hard enough to try it. Elizabeth Eakin and Patsy Eyer leave their undying friendship to Dorothy Steen and Pat Peters. Rodney Pirkle and Rosemary Jones leave to Robert Crump and Virginia Garner the pact of true love. Bob Redmon and John Angell leave their gentlemanly ways to anyone who is dumb enough to think they have any. Katherine Kuykendall leaves her chewing gum to Donald Lankford, with the admonition that he "park" it at night so it will retain its flavor. Ruth Williamson and Marian Wilson haven't decided what they want to will yet. (If I had what they have, I'd keep it too')

Harry Sampsell leaves his dark secrets to the office (If they only knew.) Elizabeth Garrison leaves her secret knack for getting out-of-town boy friends to Barbara Newsom. Doris Holland bequeaths her love for Southeastern to—on second thought she'll take him with her. Virginia Lankford leaves those big flashy brown eyes to Annabelle Walsh. Guy Newman is a steady so—that's that. Bobby Rose wills his ability to be late to home room every morning to any up-and-coming senior that likes to sleep as well as he does.

John Merkel leaves all his 95's to anyone who is dumb enough to think he has ever made any. Jack Hicks and Bobby Garner will to Charlie Powell and Bobby Daniel their ability to hug tightly a football. Did I say FOOTBALL! Mary Ann Bond wills her love for colleges—A&M that is, to Dixie Davenport. Minuon Tucker and Joanne Booth leave their ability to be good Girl Reserves to Mary Owens and Mildred Zuver. Pat Smith wills her love for underclassmen to Kathryn Frank. Camille Barnett leaves her little brother—that's okay, you can have him Camille. Charlotte Covington wills that indefinable something to Jo Ann Smith. Doris Wallace bequeaths her winning smile to Mary Alice Clark.

Dorothy Smith leaves her vim, vigor and vitality to Betty Graham. Thelma Thornton leaves some old worn out phonograph needles and broken records to the future workers of Jennings' South Side. (plug). That very happy senior, Lillie Atwell, wills her sweet disposition to Bettye Baggett. Rae Giles bequeaths her pretty blond locks to—on second thought she might look funny without them, so she'll keep them, thank you. Robert Tropp, better known as "Mike", leaves his ability to make all the girls swoon to Word Burtis who does a pretty good job by himself. Joyce Young bequeaths her brains to the Junior Class—they'll need them.

Carroll Howard, long gone, leaves the A. N. M. Club without a president (sad state, huh?) Dale Giles wills his ability to be a nuisance to Bob Hays, who has plenty of good tactics without adding any new ones. Ray Neil Wright bequeaths the many hours he slept in English to Billy Lamb who doesn't need sleeping tablets. Imogene Clay leaves her open ink bottles and fountain pens to girls who love to write to uniforms (and we don't mean the city police.) Alex Stewart leaves big brother to keep an eye on Barbara. Ronald Smith bequeaths his books, fountain pens etc. to anyone who wants them. (That's okay, we've got enough of our own.)

Josie Adamson, Dorothy Gorrell, and Jean Woods leave their ability to make D. H. S. girls beautiful (it's a hard job) to all future cosmetology students. Maxine Blalock leaves her favorite desk in history to Clarence Connell. Anne Nelson and Ruth Hosford will their shorthand books, tablets and pencils to the next unlucky juniors. Laura Payne leaves D. H. S.—but she's taking him with her. Ruby Nell Potts leaves a pair of worn out roller skates and Randy's to Rebecca Benedict. Lillian Short leaves her senior S. H. Book to Genevieve Denton. Betty Bain wills her ability to put those final touches to excuses to anyone who loves 217. Mary Vandergriff leaves D. H. S. all in one piece—we hope she stays that way. Margaret Ann Gee bequeaths her secret of how to be happy and gay all the time to Jeanne Casey. Doris Ruble leaves her counter at Madden's to all future D. E. pupils. Earlene Short wills her artistic talents to Britton Swain.

Elizabeth Jefferson leaves some of her excess get-up-and-go energy to Imogene Cole. Betty Jean Sweeney and Betty Louise Wright bequeath their undying friendship to everybody (most of us need it.) Duane Tyson and Denton Lance leave their membership in the A. N. M. to Denton Lance and Ronald Anderson. Leah Kisner and Mildred Harris leave many fond memories of D. H. S. Earlene Pugh has left D. H. S. for Sherman—foolish girl. Doris Jean Garner bequeaths those many hours spent in foods lab to Joan Heath (after all, the way to a man's heart is through his stomach.)

Mary Vandiver leaves a vacant cosmetology chair and a clean white uniform to someone who can do as good a job as she has done (it will be a hard job, girls.) Charlsye Wright Wakefield leaves her sales technique to Bernice Allen. Mary Doane in her hurry to leave D. H. S. forgets to will anybody anything. Wilma Davis and Houston McClain leave D. H. S. to the future seniors, they'll take the big city (Pottsboro, that is.) Melba Phillips and Ernestine Bitton will their ability to get out of the front door at 3:00 to the next seniors that like to work as much as they do (that's a joke, son.) Effie Brownlee and Geneva Smith leave to Martha Bartee and Dorothy Matz those many hours spent studying so that they would know the right answers when teacher calls.

J. L. Williams and Enoch DeFratus bequeath the F. F. A. and their love of the great outdoors to Don Wilburn. Betty Thornton leaves a battered typewriter at B. J. Lindsay's to anyone who wants it—and who does?

The entire senior class of 1947 leave the faculty a little peace of mind.

The preacher's wife just died, and in consequence he wished to be relieved of his duties for the weekend, so he sent the following message to his bishop:

Once there was a moth named Esmeralda. She entered the wool eating contest in her block, and won it easily. She was encouraged, so she went on to win county and state wool eating contests. Then she entered the national contest which was the ambition of all moths. She was very confident as she began eating her way through two inches of wool. When she stopped to take a breath, she saw a boy moth coming from behind.

She decided to let him win on a chance that he would be her moth friend but as he was awarded the national prize he was fondly holding the hand of another girl moth . . . . Did you ever see a moth bawl?

NEW ULTRA MODERN, DEPARTMENT STORE

EVERYTHING FOR THE ENTIRE FAMILY

Any person can be cured of snoring by good advice, cooperation, kindness and by stuffing an old sock in his mouth.

"What's the cat's name?"
"Ben Hur."
"How'd you happen to choose that name?"
"We called him Ben 'till he had kittens."

Mr. Jackson: "Another bite like that and you'll leave the table."
Roy: "Another bite like that and I'll be finished."

"He's such a runt and she's so tall. Must be funny to see them kiss each other goodbye."
"They don't. .He just looks up at her and sighs, 'So long.' "
